Key words

Let's Try Medical English, English for Clinical Reasoning, Describing Things in Medicine

Objectives:

Participants will be able

- 1) Understand the importance of history and physical examination
- 2) To clinically reason which is the most appropriate diagnosis from a given set of symptoms, signs and other factors
- 3) To understand how to describe clinical pictures in English
- 4) To interact with colleagues in English

Target audience: Anyone who is interested in learning medicine in English and how to apply clinical reasoning to their everyday patients to make more accurate and timelier diagnoses. The session slides will have some Japanese translation, but the main focus will be on the thought process as opposed to language skill.

Timetable – 90-minute session

0-5 minutes (5 minutes)

Introduction to members of the session

5-85 minutes (80 minutes)
